

Talk with Center Director at brown bag lunch forum

▲ "KSC, Can We Talk?" With KSC Center Director: On Nov. 3, KSC will hold its second "KSC, Can We Talk?" forum from noon – 1 p.m. in the form of a brown bag lunch. This informal dialogue between Center Director Jim Kennedy and the NASA KSC workforce attempts to enhance the workplace culture and create open communications.

Limited to 12 NASA/KSC employees, the "KSC, Can We Talk?" has no prepared, preselected, or predetermined topics. The topics are provided by the participants, who will be selected via a random lottery. Participants must be nonsupervisory, non-SES, and GS-14 or below. To apply, simply e-mail your name, mail code and telephone number to CanWeTalk@kscems.ksc.nasa.gov, by Oct. 28. Previously selected employees who could not attend earlier talks need to reapply; also, attendee participation has been limited to once a year.

If you have any questions, please contact Gisele Altman at Gisele.Altman-1@nasa.gov or 867-4000. (Date subject to change.)

▲ DAAWG Breakfast: KSC will observe the month of October as National Disability Employment Awareness Month. This year the Disability Awareness & Action Working Group (DAAWG) is hosting its second annual breakfast event at the Kurt Debus Conference Center from 8:30 to 10 a.m. Oct. 13. This year's national theme is "You're hired... Success Knows No Limitations."

The breakfast provides a light and delicious meal and features a special performance in American Sign Language. The guest speaker for the event is Jennifer Sheehy Keller, acting deputy director of the National Institute on Disability and Rehabilitation Research in the U.S. Department of Education. Don't miss this opportunity to partner with co-workers. Breakfast tickets can be purchased for only $15 per person from these employees:
